

Morning Telegram.

GRAND RAPIDS, DEC. 13, 1894.

Any subscriber not receiving THE TELEGRAM regularly and promptly will confer a favor by notifying this office by telephone or postal card. Our telephone number is 531.

The Muskegon circulation of THE TELEGRAM is in the hands of W. S. Dove. All payments on subscriptions should be made to him, and he is authorized to receipt for the same.

TOWN TALK.

Church socials are numerous. Plenty of hay on the market every day. "The Planter's Wife" will follow "Romany Rye."

W. J. Morgan, superintendent of the D. & G. H. & M. is in the city.

There will be reduced rates on all the railroads during the holidays.

The members of the New England Society will celebrate as usual this winter.

The annual sale of the Helping Hand Society will occur at the residence of E. P. Fuller next Tuesday evening.

The social held in the parlors of the Park Congregational Church last evening was a pleasant affair, but not largely attended.

The Board of Health's report yesterday was as follows: Geo. Hardy, corner of North Division and Park street, measles.

There is being considerable effort made to consolidate the subscription lists and offices of three or four of the weekly trade journals of this city.

Patricia & Abbott are furnishing red oak and maple floors for the new Aldrich block on Ottawa street, and Col. Briggs' block on Kent street.

There was a fair attendance at the hop given by Silvers & Warden at the Metropolitan Hall last night, and those present had a very pleasant time.

Patrolman Peter Kearney retold many old war stories at Lansing, yesterday. Peter was one of the first to enlist in the Third Michigan Volunteers.

There is no truth in the rumor that the Grand Rapids Chair Company will shut down for the year. The machinery will run right along.

The Waterline alone will not appear until next Friday. It will issue but one copy a week for the first two weeks; thereafter it will appear semi-weekly.

The Gas Company have completed their new gas retort down the river at the proposed site for the new gas works. When the new works are completed the present works will be abandoned.

Rev. S. S. Graves, D. D., performed two marriage services at his residence Wednesday evening. One was the wedding of Anna Shute and Miss Etta Clark, both of Grandville; and Jay H. Holton and Miss Carrie A. Dean, both of this city.

To-morrow evening the Philharmonic orchestra, which has been greatly augmented and placed under the direction of Prof. Wellenstein, will give a sacred concert at Redmond's Opera House. These concerts have become very popular, and are certainly deserving of the liberal patronage bestowed.

The Telegram has for some time been in possession of the details of a scandal involving the family of a prominent citizen, and which is likely soon to produce a social convulsion. The story surpasses the ordinary coachman sensation by great odds, but this journal prefers not to be the vehicle of such filth as it involves.

PERSONAL.

O. P. Hughtar, formerly of this city, now of St. Paul, is in town.

Miss Cutler, of Grand Haven, is visiting Miss Larned, in this city.

The G. R. & I. R. R. pay car is making its monthly trip over the road.

Dr. J. R. Stephenson is home again after a four weeks' visit with his brother at Howard City.

Judge Champlin will remove soon from his present office to the rooms now occupied by Hughes Bros.

Will A. Smith has rented the office in the Inman block now occupied by T. J. O'Brien, Esq., and will make them the headquarters of the Merchants Exchange.

Henry Harting, who has been visiting his mother and sister, Mrs. Vanderveen, 150 Ransom street, left yesterday for New Orleans, whether she will spend the winter.

Captain Coffinbury, Superintendent of the Port, of this county, attended the meeting of the State Board of Correction and Charity, at Kalamazoo, on Tuesday, and paid a visit to his younger brother and niece, at Constantine, returning yesterday to this city, after an absence of three days.

Burleigh's Billiards.

The billiard exhibition given at Sweet's Hotel last night attracted a large audience, the billiard room being crowded with gentlemen. The contestants were Mr. William Burleigh, of this city, and Mr. E. A. Warner, of Springfield. Mr. Burleigh discounted Warner a 300-point game of billiards and scored 311 points to Warner's 78. Burleigh's largest runs were 87, 78, 61, 110. The next was a fifteen-ball contest between the same gentlemen, the winner to have eleven games out of twenty-one. It proved a most interesting and exciting contest, the players being tie with seven games each and nine games each. Mr. Burleigh then getting two games in succession and winning the series. The entertainment then concluded with an exhibition of fancy shots by Mr. Burleigh, many of which were difficult and heartily applauded.

A Grand Rapids Firm a Loser.

The lumber firm of W. H. Raiguel & Co., of this city, lost 200,000 feet of pine lumber by a fire at Summit, Osceola county, yesterday morning. S. W. Osterhout, who was one of the heavy losers in the late lumber fire near Duluth, Minn., is a member of this firm. Other losers by the fire are A. B. Mitchell & Co., who lose 400,000 feet, and the Flint & Pass Marquette, Railroad Company, that loses a box car. The property was fully insured.

Champlin Post G. A. R. Officers.

At the annual election of Champlin Post, No. 28, held last night, the following officers were elected: Commander, Samuel White; S. V. C., John C. Christensen; J. V. C., John Berg; Adjutant, Geo. W. Williams; Chaplain, E. O. Stevens; Q. M., Wm. Koch; O. D., Len J. Bradford; O. G., W. E. Pullen; Surgeon, Dr. W. O. Knowles; Delegates to State's Encampment, W. G. Rand, E. O. Stevens, W. L. Baily; Alternates, A. D. Porter, John C. Christensen, Wm. Kate.

Should Roast Higher.

William Ebbertsen, a German living at 64 West Bridge street, has been living in high glow over the prospects of many ducks roasted from a turkey raffia. He had taken much pains to fatten ten fine birds, and early yesterday morning some miscreant entered his coop and took away of the finest fowl. When he reported his loss at headquarters yesterday he said: "Miserable! I will kill some other ducks right at once."

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The Discussion Last Night on the Proposed Amendments to the Charter—The Work Unfinished.

The Common Council met last evening and went into Committee of the Whole. Alderman Palmerlee presiding. Aldermen Grady, Pierce, Killen, Albright and Laniere were absent. The turn-out of the public was moderate, though there was a sprinkling of representative men present.

Ald. Gilbert, as chairman of the Committee on Charter Amendments, submitted the report, and it was considered seriatim. The first section was read and it was agreed to change the term of treasurer from one year to two, and strike out the words "if a freeholder." These latter words didn't suit the democratic ideas of Ald. Nester and Ald. Gilbert seconded his motion, acknowledging it to be a relic "hoary with age, a burlesque, and hoped the same spirit would prevail still further in remodeling the city charter. Ald. Brenner, with Bismarckian nosterism, didn't know where it might end if such invective was encouraged. The chairman invited citizens present to express themselves fully on any subject under consideration. Ex-Mayor Angell doubted if the old clause was constitutional and cited a decision of the Supreme Court, that any citizen of the United States had a right to hold any office in the gift of the people.

Ald. DeGraaf moved to amend that the director of the poor be put in the two-year class, and made a conclusive argument on the same, and the clause was amended to read, "every second year thereafter, one director of the poor."

Title 4, section 11, was then taken up. Ald. Gilbert explained that the amendment proposed in the old charter except that it makes emphatic that the Council has control of the city's public money, to deposit it in a depository out of the Treasurer's hands. Several Aldermen discussed this amendment pro and con, and Messrs. Silas Goudrey and Major A. B. Watson made strong addresses favoring the amendment. It carried, and also an amendment to provide an office, books, stationery, and necessary assistants to make the Treasurer an independent officer.

Title 2, section 3, to give Aldermen more jurisdiction and the city eight more members on the Board of Supervisors, was so amended.

Section 12, as amended, enlarged the duties of City Attorney, extending them to that of adviser of the Board of Education, providing that his office shall exclude other practice, and giving him an assistant if necessary, and the fixing of their salaries by the Council, was carried.

Section 13, same title, enlarging powers of City Marshal to make arrests for purposes of carrying out legal effect of charter and save much expense in damages against the city, was carried.

Section 23, to give police power to arrest without process for acts less than felony or breach of peace was considered necessary in the city in the interests of good order and it was so amended.

Section 23, relative to salaries, was made to read as follows: City Clerk's salary $1,000, Treasurer $2,000, Marshal $1,200, Aldermen $800, Controller $1,200, City Attorney $2,500, and also amended that Council can prescribe salaries in other cases. The beginning of the section, "fees and perquisites to City Clerk as prescribed by law," was stricken out. Alderman Nester struck the key note of an improvement and one badly needed by proposing to make the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners salaried officers, but the Council didn't strike on the same chord, and the Aldermen will yet have time to apply the texts that, "the servant is worthy of his hire," and that "the ox should not be muzzled that treads his owner's corn."

Title 5, Section 9, relating to changes in matters affecting the Board of Equalization and Review was then taken up, which led the Council into deeper water than they were prepared to wade in without further deliberation and study, and so the committee rose as a whole, reported progress to Council, the report was adopted and Council adjourned.

RAILROAD NOTES.

J. Roach, a Michigan Central brakeman, fell between the cars near West Branch, Wednesday.

P. S. O'Rourke, superintendent of the Southern Division of the G. R. & I. of Fort Wayne, Ind., is in the city.

The D. & G. H. & M. pay car went West over that line Thursday, and yesterday afternoon the G. R. & I. pay car went South gladdening the hearts of many.

The Chicago & West Michigan railroad announces this morning the remarkably low rate of $25 from this city to New Orleans and return. The tickets will be good for forty days.

General Manager J. B. Mulliken, of the Detroit, Lansing & Northern and Chicago & West Michigan, is in Muskegon and Chicago this week, looking after the affairs of the latter road.

The earnings of the Pullman Palace Car Company at the present time are $1,000 per day ahead of last year, and will show an increase in December of fully $40,000 over those of the corresponding months of last year.

The announcement is made in railway circles that there will be a change in the management of the Chicago & West Michigan railroad Jan. 1. This road has its main offices at Grand Rapids, and does a heavy Chicago business with Western Michigan. When Geo. C. Kimball was relieved from the general management, J. H. Palmer, of Boston, was sent from that city as the new passenger and freight agent, to succeed A. M. Nichols, who was made superintendent. General Manager Mulliken, of the D. & L. & N. road, which is now owned by the same men as the C. & W. M., was made Mr. Kimball's successor.

Since the change the position of assistant passenger agent has been given to Mr. Carpenter, a relative of W. A. Carpenter, of the D. & L. & N. The office of superintendent, it is now said, will be filled by Mr. Mulliken, who will be assisted by Mr. Palmer, and the latter and Mr. Nichols will sever connection with the road. Detroit Journal.

Fine Selection.

Nothing is better for a present than a musical instrument. The finest assortment in the city can be found at Paul W. Friedrich, No. 34 Monroe, such as the famous Schuber piano, the excellent Bahr piano, and the Kautz and Packard organs. Also, all kinds of musical instruments, such as Violins, Guitars, Accordions, Harmoniums, etc. Call and examine the stock.

THE MILLARD CASE.

there was a plate there; her arms and lower limbs were drawn up when she died; she was very sweaty; had two spells before she died; I held her knees down; no vomiting while I was there; assisted in laying out the body.

Cause examined—There was a shivering and chattering of teeth when spasms first came on; saw no eruptions on the skin when I laid her out.

DR. PRAY.

Dr. Pray testified—Have been practicing nearly thirty-six years; called on Sarah Millard three times during her last sickness; she had head-ache, nervous excitement and pain in the back the first time; prescribed nothing; the next time I called was April 27; Mr. Millard sent for me; she was worse than the first time I called; had headache, vomiting, pain in the back and insomnia; prescribed nothing; met Dr. Eplay afterwards; not at Millard's; remedies were given for irritation of the stomach; if irritation became severe it would lead into secondary inflammation; could not describe her condition May 3; minute; had same symptoms, only more aggravated; prescribed nothing; did not examine what was given; did not consider it a formal professional visit; she complained of excessive pain; did not notice her eyes very particularly; did not examine her on the 3rd; think I did on the 27th; think she did not have much fever on the 27th; am not positive that I examined the pulse on the 21st; prostration increased between these several visits.

Cause examined—In May 1893 Millard's difficulty was nervous prostration; she complained of a severe pain in the head; no nausea; prostration; prostration; medicine to quiet the nerves; the next time I called was in the summer of '81; she had the same difficulty at that time; it was caused by some female weakness; I treated her off and on; she complained of her head and general debility.

Adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

A Painful Operation.

Mrs. Will A. Innis submitted to a very severe and painful surgical operation yesterday afternoon at the Rathbun House. It was made by Dr. O. E. Herick, assisted by Drs. Brady, of this city, Gundrum, of Ionia, and Prof. Duffield, of Detroit. The operation was successful and the patient is quite comfortable with every prospect of a speedy recovery.
